

Clarence Jorif

Clarence Jorif was elected to the Rockwall City Council in May 2021. He received his master's degree in Public Administration with a concentration in Public Safety/Crisis Management from Norwich University in Northfield, VT. He received a bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice and Psychology from the State University of New York.

Clarence began his prestigious military career in the U.S. Army as a military police officer stationed at Ft. Hood, Texas. He worked his way through the ranks and was subsequently assigned to the Criminal Investigation Command, where he was a highly decorated U.S. Army Chief Warrant Officer 3.

Clarence has honed his leadership skills throughout 38+ years of federal, county, local, and military law enforcement service. He retired in December 2016 as a Senior Special Agent from the U.S. Secret Service, where he provided and supervised protective operations for the President and Vice President of the United States, former presidents, and foreign heads of state.

He is the owner of The Compound Royse City, which is a shooting sports training facility currently located in Rockwall, Texas. The business affords individuals the ability to learn protective skills needed to safeguard themselves and their families.

Clarence has been a resident of Rockwall since 2012, where he resides with his wife, Lyne, and three daughters, Maya, Sydney, and Darby..
